If you have API and a javascript programmer, we invite you to become a module developer. You can make a module for your equipment and place it in iRidium store. It's up to you to decide if your module is free or commercial. To become a module developer, please, send a request here. If you cannot make a module for your equipment, send a request for module development in our System of module order..