An integrator can change a user's project from a control panel, by entering his login in "Invite user field". In this field an integrator can see a list of panles where the project was downloaded and edited.