If you create an account for an end-user, fill in all fields. After it a user gets a notification about registration.