

is a editor that allows to create the module to control device for i3 lite application. You need to use a special editor build for module developers to develop the module