

A link to a subdevice that was created is sent to a function. Different components can be added to subdevice in this event, such as, actions, events, states, widgets, channels, tags. For example,