The input parameter of the method is in_Widget - an object, a widget, created in the studio beforehand.

The output parameter of the method is True or False (successful or not).

For example, we have 3 lamps. Not to create a separate wiget for each lamp, use a ready template and clone it. Here is an example of creating widgets with the help of a code using the existing template .