

The distinctive feature of developing a scanner is the event that launches the driver work. When developing a scanner use the following event