

is a component of macros and routines. It describes the control command and value that must be sent to the command. For example, "turn on the light". There are 2 types of Action: Simple Action and Advanced Action.