

is a software part, that analyzes any bus looking for connected devices. Found connected devices are displayed in a list. Modules for the found devices are downloaded from iRidium store and the devices become available to control in i3 lite.