«On/off» switch. It is used only when the currect device status is known.