Add a condition. A condition is not an obligatory part or a rule, but it can be used when more comparisons are required before an action is done, This condition works without a function.