

The number of effect group where the effect is located. It is recommended to use numbers of effect groups starting with 1000. It will prevent them from mixing up with effect groups created by the studio. If you want to add dynamically created effects to effect groups created in the studio, use it deliberately.