

Create a dynamic image with a given set of parameters. If not all parameters of an image are indicated, the missed parameters are taken by default or keep the previous value. The image is created without a connection to a graphic item, it can be used on different popups when called by the name. The name of a created image unlike other properties, can not be changed.