Name of a setting popup for a module. A setting popup is created by a module developer to provide its work, if required.