

iRidium studio - an editor which enables creation of modules to control devices for the i3 lite application.