5.6. Creating relations between wiget graphic items and driver channels.

Relation between a graphic item and a channel is formed when relating the driver feedback channel (Feedback) and the graphic item created on the wiget. Here is an example of creating relations between graphic items of the created wiget and the driver channels with the help of the code.