

>> The development of the script driver.

If there is no native driver in iRidium Studio, you can write a script based on the driver of one of the transports (HTTP, TCP, etc.).

To a script driver running on the server, you need to duplicate the panel module script (except for the graphic part).