

Conditions, actions and events are SubDevice logic items. Macros and routines are created on their basis (more - section 3.4.). A widget is a graphic item. Users control SubDevices via widgets. Usually one SubDevice contains one widget but the number of conditions, actions and events varies (from 0 to many).