work incorrectly on several panels (except cases when a device limits the work of several panels. In these cases it must be written in the description)