modules must ask a user's permision to transfer data about him/her and inform where and why these data will be used.