

A module must contain such Actions, Events and Conditions that described the minimal functions of a device.